

Integral Leadership ILM Level 5 Award in Leadership

Why an ILM qualification?

The Institute of Leadership & Management (ILM) is a premier body with experience in the field of leadership and management in the UK and internationally.

Every year, ILM recognises the professional development achievements of managers from team leaders to board level, as well as managers of small businesses and those responsible for quality, energy, the environment and human resources. Well over half a million managers have improved their own performance and brought real benefit to their employers by taking part in programmes such as this.

If you are gaining knowledge, understanding and skills to become a more effective leader; the next step is to be recognised for that achievement, which is what this award is: recognition of your achievement...the next step.

What is the ILM Level 5 Award in Leadership?

The ILM Level 5 Award in Leadership is a short programme designed to develop your understanding of leadership theories and how this understanding can be used to improve your leadership practice. The award is of value to those people who have been employed in a leadership role for some time at the different levels and wish to underpin their practice with a clearer knowledge of the principles of leadership. You will receive one-to-one support to prepare you for the assessment in which you will carry out an evaluation of your own leadership abilities and performance.

How long will it take?

The ILM Level 5 Award in Leadership comprises a single unit requiring 20 guided learning hours, or 30 hours' total learning time.

So what will I achieve?

The main purpose of the qualification is to help you to improve your leadership practice; and you can also use your qualification as a stepping stone to other qualifications. In particular the ILM Level 5 Award in Leadership allows exemption from the first unit of the full ILM Level 5 Certificate in Leadership. You can also apply for Membership (MInstLM) once you have completed the Level 5 Award in Leadership.

With the ILM Level 5 Award in Leadership, you can undertake the ILM Level 5 Diploma in Management, or progress on to the ILM Level 7 Executive Diploma in Management.
